CAMPTON PUBLIC LIBRARY

This being the report for the two hundredth birthday of our Town, we would like to write briefly of our Campton Library.

There was as early as 1790 a social library, which was established by Solden Church, former minister of the Congregational Church. (He was the first settled minister in Campton.) Reverend Church was aided by others with donations of money and books. Unfortunately this library, after a time, was given up.

The next library of any record was instituted soon after the incorporation of the Congregational Society in Campton in 1818. Money was raised by the Ladies Sewing Circle and books were donated—many given by Reverend Isaac Willey. This Library was located in the Congregational Church.

In 1894 we find the first mention in a Town Report of a library when Gardiner Little became the first librarian, serving until his death in 1905.

The Town Report for 1907 stated that the Library in the Town House had been refurbished. At the same time a list of the books was printed and Mrs. Abbie Ewins and Louise Ewins were appointed as librarians. Mrs. Ewins was serving as librarian at the time of her death in 1937. In the same year, Mrs. Laura Ewins Pulsifer was appointed to take her place.

Branch Libraries were established at West Campton and Campton Village about 1907 and were continued for many years. Mrs. Eunice Baker Tracy, a Trustee at the present time, keeps books in her home from the Library and also from the Bookmobile of the State Library for the convenience of readers in the Village.

At the Library there are shelves devoted to recommended reading for high school students, and there is a special corner for children's books.

The Library is open the first and third Saturday afternoons of each month.

We appreciate the books that have been donated this year and we are also grateful to those who furnished old books, pictures and papers for the Library exhibit which was on display in the Grange Hall during the Bicentennial Celebration.

There are copies left of the short history of the Campton Library written for the Bicentennial. These are available at the Library for anyone who would like one.

REPORT OF FOREST FIRE WARDEN AND DISTRICT CHIEF

After several successive years of drought, the rains of 1967 came as a welcome change. Our record of the past fire season is good. Our thanks to all who contributed to achieve this good record. Continued improvement in the matter of accurate, prompt detection and rapid effective suppression action can help to maintain this good, worthwhile record even though we do not have an abundance of rain as in the fire season of 1967.

It will help if we follow these simple suggestions:

1. No burning of debris and waste between the hours of 9:00 A. M. and 5:00 P. M. and then only with a written permit from the Forest Fire Warden.

2. Take debris and waste to the town dump.

3. Maintain a clean, safe dump.

4. Keep matches away from young children.

5. Be sure matches and smoking material are dead out when we discard them.

6. Set good example for others in fire prevention.

Number of Fires and Acres Burned in 1967

STATE: 408 Fires; 520 Acres

DISTRICT: 34 Fires, 12 1-8 Acres

PEN PORTRAIT OF CAMPTON'S BICENTENNIAL

1767 - 1967

by Eunice Baker Tracy

To each person and place is accorded in a lifetime one shining hour and on August 5th and 6th, 1967, Campton was given such an hour in the celebration of its 200th birthday.

From the moment the houses and business locations began to don a festive air with red, white and blue streamers to the last moments of the third baseball game in Roberts field where the wives laughingly entered the field to take the places of their bedraggled husbands, and the bone tired and weary yet exultant committees began to relax in body, mind and spirit after months of endless details, the town was in one gay, exciting, exhilarating, mad whirl.

There were solemn moments, too. Moments, to catch the heart-strings, moments when tears were close and wondrous moments when we stood alone in our thoughts knowing we were seeing history pass before our eyes in review and the inevitable feeling of pathos that never again could we witness such an event.

There was a strange and mystical almost ethereal feeling that pervaded the atmosphere no matter to what part of town the activity carried us, no matter the building.

We were not alone these two August days. They were here, too, the early settlers of Campton, the later generations who saw the town develop and grow and the stilled voices of the past generations out of our sight only a little while. We heard them as they whispered softly, "We know. We were here. We remember."

They marched with us as the first drum beat of the American Legion, the Golden Cadets and the Royal Eagles opened the parade and quickened the heart.

They watched with us in delight as float after float, gaily decorated bicycles and little girls pushing with pride their colorful doll carriages passed the reviewing stand.

They joined with us outside the Town House in solemn dedication of the flag that had flown over our Capitol in Washington was now presented to the town of Campton. And our hearts lifted as Old Glory was unfurled in the clear blue sky of that August day to the accompaniment of the haunting and poignant sound "To the Colors" by the bugler.

As we looked over old records at the Campton Elementary School we felt them at our side as familiar faces smiled up at us from faded photographs, handwriting and handmade crafts of generations past.

At the library exhibit they visited with us as we traced their steps through old books, records, papers and magazines displayed by an artistic hand on paisley shawl covered tables, in olden chopping trays and wooden buckets.

They listened solemnly as Governor King read the original charter of Campton and presented it to the selectmen who sat that day with two descendants of those who signed the original charter.

And with grave faces we listened as did they to Senator Cotton's address to the group of 250 citizens gathered at the Town House as he cautioned us to be keenly aware of the impending danger of the spending of our day.

They could not grasp as we of our times are unable to understand the terrific amount of money designated for the defense budget alone. That one billion minutes have elapsed since the birth of Christ and that our yearly defense budget is 70 times that figure was as incomprehensible to them as it is to us.

Better than we they knew the contents of the letter written by Elihu C. Baker in 1867 at the time of the Campton Centennial and read by Mrs. Lavinia Dole at the Bicentennial which said in part:

"The men of Campton will bear the examination of history without detriment in the comparison. It is well, therefore, that you celebrate your anniversary day. In our pride of the past, in our reverence for the fathers, let us not forget their hopes, their objects, the purpose of their struggles, the end of their works."

I beg to send you as a sentiment:

"As we of 1867 say to those of 1767, so may they of 1967 say to us, 'WORTHY SONS OF NOBLE SIRE'S.'"

I have the honor to be

Very truly, your obedient servant

Elihu C. Baker,

Sept. 9, 1867."

And finally their voices were heard in the choir as we gathered on a soft gray Sunday morning at the beautiful old Congregational Church in the Hollow to pray for divine guidance as did our forefathers. We heard their sweet remembered voices mingle with ours in the old familiar hymns and their final whispered "Amen" was our benediction and blessing at the close of the Sabbath service.

The Bicentennial is over. People are back at their daily tasks. The buildings are stripped of decorations. The crowd is gone.

Never again will our streets be quite the same. For all of us who became a part of the celebration the aura will linger, memories remain and the faces of dear ones who walked unseen but in our hearts through the whole moving pageant will remain forever indelible.

CAMPTON'S 200th BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

A ROUSING SUCCESS

It looked like a grey day for the start of the Campton Bicentennial that Saturday morning until the sun fought its way through from behind a threatening wall of clouds. By the time cars were lined up along Route 175 to watch the big parade the day was very warm and glowing with hazy sunlight.

Banners were flying as small children gripped helium filled balloons which threatened to fly away. Everyone waited in anticipation for the parade to start. The children's excitement was contagious as the faces of adults were broken with wide smiles.

The parade which featured 27 floats, two bands and other decorated entries was led by Marshal Nancy Splaine.

The prizewinning bicycles were; 1st prize, Anne Vaillancourt; 2nd prize, Kim Robinson; 3rd, Betsy Osgood; 4th, Joan Eastman; 5th, Wayne Blake, and 6th, Chris Thompson.

The prizewinning carriages were; 1st prize, Tammy Merrill; 2nd prize, Kathy and Tracy Burhoe; 3rd prize, Kimberly Kelly; 4th prize, Becky Avery; 5th, Jane McCormack and 6th, Dale Blake.

The float by Don Hutt captured first prize with the Owl Street float offering strong competition in second place. The Baptist Women's Fellowship captured third with E-Z Mills, Campton Grange, Forestry Dept., and the Firemen's Auxiliary honored with 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th places respectively. The Plymouth 4-H Lancers were honored with a special prize for their fine showing. The judges, Suzanne Loizeaux of Plymouth, Sidney Thompson of Wakefield, Mass., and John Baker of Lincoln, R.I., had a difficult task.

Following the parade the Golden Cadets Drum and Bugle Corps and Royal Eagles Drum and Drill Corps, who had marched in the parade gave a fine performance in front of the Baptist Church on Main Street.

After lunch at the school, put on by the P.T.A., everyone adjourned to the Town Hall. At 2:30 p.m. the flag dedication was held beside the new flag pole. U.S. Senator Norris Cotton presented the flag which has flown over the Capitol in Washington. Governor John King assisted in the dedication ceremonies. Selectmen Max Haley, Bertram Pulsifer and Shirley Tracy accepted the flag on behalf of the town of Campton. Daniel Berg and Roger Clark of the Durand-Haley Post, American Legion officiated while Harold Freeman blew taps.

Because of the hot sun everyone went into the town hall for the remainder of the observance. Lester Mitchell, Jr., Master of Ceremonies, introduced the first speaker, his father, the Hon. Lester Mitchell, Sr., former State Senator.

Rev. Leighton Foss gave the invocation and benediction. Bertram Pulsifer, selectman for many years, who has the distinction of being a descendant of Joseph Pulsifer, the original settler of Campton, spoke on behalf of the town.

Portions of a letter in the 1867 Centennial book were read by Mrs. Lavinia Dole. Asked to take a bow were Mr. and Mrs. Milton Spencer of Stratham, who are descendants of those who signed the original charter for Campton.

Governor King represented the town's charter and offered his congratulations to the residents of Campton.

Senator Cotton was the featured speaker. The Senator related one of his "true" stories to the packed hall and then went on to more serious things. He remarked that Campton's founders had come to escape three things - war, taxes, and oppressive government. He commented on how disillusioned they would be if they knew that 200 years later these things are still of major concern. He explained "they had the feeling that if they came here among these rugged mountains that they would be free from being pursued forever by man-made wars."

His warning "We are in tragic danger," was backed up as he quoted a Democratic senator on the Armed Services Committee who said that the expenses of Vietnam were causing us to slip behind in protecting the immediate security of America.

In explaining the crisis in which this country finds itself he added "there has not been a new fighter (plane) in this country in over seven years. We're not keeping up with preventive armament. This alone can deter some future conflict." Quoting an Armed Services Committee member, Senator Cotton said "We're sitting around this table selling our kids into slavery."

The nation's $70 billion dollar defense budget drew this comment, "we are bleeding ourselves to death with it and other give-away programs."

To give everyone a conception of how much money 70 billion dollars was Senator Cotton pointed out that slightly over one billion minutes have elapsed since the birth of Christ. Our defense budget is 70 times that much!

Shifting from finances to war the senator commented that many generals have warned time and again never to engage in a land war on the Asian continent. He brought this point to bear on present circumstances when he said, "I doubt if 45,000 more troops in the morasses of Vietnam is going to make much difference."

Using figures provided by H.E.W. head Abraham Ribicoff, the senator commented that Mr. Ribicoff had admitted that most of the tremendous sums spent in the past ten years to help the poor was wasted!

In conclusion the senator said, "You just ran up a flag out there. It is getting pretty old fashioned to talk about the flag." He then called on everyone to bring about "a rebirth of patriotism in this country."

A resolution was passed by the state legislature congratulating the town of Campton on its Bicentennial was read by Sterle Cheney, Campton Town Clerk.

A bountiful Smorgasbord was served at the Baptist Church Vestry to more than 300 people from 5 to 7 p.m., after which many enjoyed the dance at the Town Hall until midnight.

There were interesting Historical exhibits on display at the Central School and Grange Hall during the two days of celebration.

Two rooms of the Campton Elementary School were assigned to the committee on Historical Exhibits. One room was well filled with photographs, old town pictures, paintings, old books and prints. Here too, were hung several carefully preserved gowns from the past century. There was a tea set of tiny doll sized dishes; the pewter communion tankard, goblet and plates of the Campton Congregational Church; the silver plates, goblets and tankard used by the old Chapel congregation and the old pulpit from the Baptist Church which formerly stood not far away from the present Armont Inn. Many old wooden tools, antique saws, and wrenches were dusted off and put on exhibition.

Across the hall, the other schoolroom contained a beautiful old bell and ball fourposted bed with woven spreads, intricately embroidered quilts and handwoven blankets upon it. Two black wedding gowns from the 1800's were the source of much amazement. One wall was hung with patchwork quilts of every description. A china-headed doll, named Cora Brown, lay within a sturdy hooded cradle. Nearby was an antique rocker, a lovely old braided rug and a straightbacked kitchen chair. Other antique chairs, fragile tables, shawls, scarves, table covers, woven baskets, beautiful old china were displayed here. There was a fragrant spice-box, an ancient lemon squeezer, an apple peeler, more pictures and a great array of tools from barn attics. One grandmother was heard describing to a small boy the use of all the wooden presses and forms which covered the wide windowsills.

With the gracious consent of many families in town and the painstaking search of attics and trunks, the committee of workers was able to set up this unique display. Our sincere thanks go to all who so generously loaned their cherished possessions and to those who helped to explain and care for them during the time of the Bicentennial.

The Campton Public Library exhibit in the Grange Hall was arranged on tables covered with paisley shawls and old table cloths. It was devoted mainly to a display of books, early letters and pictures. In wooden buckets and old chopping trays were placed magazines of the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries. On the walls were old maps, 18th century bills of sale and legal documents in antique frames. One framed sampler was made by a little girl born in Campton in 1809 (Louisa French).

The table on which were placed picture albums and "family" Bibles proved to be of interest as were the books written by Campton natives and summer residents of early days. Pictures of these authors were loaned and were also on display.

It is interesting to note that there were books represented from each of the three recorded libraries in Campton from 1790 to the present time.

The Grange Charter, granted April 16, 1878 hung on the wall in the Grange Hall, with the Roll of Honor showing the names of those members who have served their country in the armed services. There were also pictures of the first Master, Gardner S. Bartlett, and a long time Master, Richard B. McLean and his wife.

On the table were displayed a roll book with a list of the charter members' own signatures, an old ballot box and lists of Lecturers' Programs together with accounts of anniversaries and other important events.

There were also in the display old state and national annual session reports, rosters, early Grange magazines and many other items of interest to Patrons of Husbandry who enjoyed looking back over the years of Grange activity in Campton since its organization 89 years ago.

Sunday, August 6, dawned hazy and warm, and at 10 a. m. the Congregational Church was filled to capacity for the Bicentennial services led by Rev. Leighton Foss, pastor of the Baptist and Congregational churches in Campton. The sermon was presented by the Reverend Edward Cantwell of Wolfeboro, New Hampshire, who was pastor of the church in the late twenties. Rev. Cantwell gave a very inspiring sermon on the meaning of respect to God, to our Country and those early settlers who came to Campton for freedom from any kind of civil or religious persecution. After the church services the Pemigewasset Valley Fish and Game Club put on one of their famous chicken barbecues at the Town House for about 250 people. There were many old time residents, descendants of early settlers, who enjoyed visiting with old friends and thronged the Town for these two days of celebration.

In the afternoon the Campton Little Leaguers defeated the Bristol Little Leaguers 5 to 3 and the Old Timers swamped the Babe Ruth League 15 to 4.

Everyone agreed it had been a wonderful 200 years of history that brought Campton to 1967 from 1767, but we are quite sure the next 200 years will bring changes that will dwarf the past in all dimensions.

The bell in the Campton Congregational Church was rung at midnight on August 6 to usher in the beginning of the 3rd century of the incorporation of Campton.

Serving on the Historical Committee were Sterle A. Cheney, Mrs. Lavinia Dole, Paul S. Durgin, John L. Dole and Lester E. Mitchell, Jr. Parade Committee included Clifford McCuin, Olive Moulton, Burton Pierce and Donald McKinnon. In charge of the program were Lester E. Mitchell, Jr., and Sterle Cheney; Dance, Paul S. Durgin; Honorary Chairman of the Day, Lester E. Mitchell, Sr.; Reception, Mrs. Lavinia E. Dole; History Book, Mrs. Lavinia E. Dole and Mrs. Jane Pierce; Historical Exhibit, Mrs. Olive Hill, Mrs. Mable Piper, Miss Florence Dole; Guest Book, Mrs. Christine Dole; Photographers, Gordon Lasher, John Dole; Saturday Noon Lunch, Parent-Teachers Assoc.; Smorgasbord, Baptist Women's Fellowship, Congregational Women's Guild; Chicken Barbecue, Pemigewasset Fish and Game Club; Church Services, Rev. Leighton Foss; Baseball Games, Harry Cheney; Fund Raising Booths, Boy Scouts; Wooden Nickels, Firemen's Auxiliary; Stamps, Harold Henderson; Hats, Sterle Cheney.

The Selectmen wish to express their appreciation to the publishers of the Plymouth Record for the use of their written report, to Lasher Studios and the Bicentennial Committee and all others who helped to make a record of the proceedings of Campton's 200th Anniversary in this year's Town report. Thanks also to Mrs. Eunice Tracy for her excellent contribution.

REPORT OF SCHOOL DISTRICT NURSE

The nurse visited the school thirty-eight times during the school year. Inspections were made on all children for symptoms of illness, cleanliness and condition of hair and scalp. First aid supplies were purchased and given when necessary when the nurse was at the school.

A dental inspection was done on each child and notices sent home on those needing dental care. The State Dental Hygienist visited the classrooms and gave instructions on dental hygiene and showed a film strip.

A hearing test and vision screening test was given to each of the students. Where necessary, notices were sent to parents advising that the child be taken to the family physician or eye doctor.

Each child was weighed and measured and a health record kept on each.

Home visits were made for consultation on Clinics, Sight Conservation and various health problems. Pre-school registration was held. The nurse made out registration forms and checked birth certificates.

The nurse attended three school nurses' workshop meetings — one at Timberlane Regional School in Plaistow and two in Concord. She also attended State Teachers' Convention (School Nurses' Section) in Manchester; and met with Guidance Psychologist for a series of meetings and the Director of School Health Services Welfare Social Workers.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN H. FISHER, R.N.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL

To the School Board, Superintendent of Schools, Parents, and Citizens of Campton.

I hereby submit my first annual report as Principal of Campton Central School.

The school year started with the opening of school, September 6, 1967. The student enrollment at that time was 175 pupils and has not fluctuated. We added several new staff members: Mrs. Lowden assumed first grade responsibilities; Mr. Lowden, science and mathematics and Mr. Barnes, Principal, social studies, and science. Mrs. Strong was hired for the hot lunch program. A volunteer study hall program to help alleviate overcrowded classrooms was started with the aid of the P.T.A. and volunteer mothers. The P.T.A. also donated new swings and playground equipment to the school as well as sponsoring a dental clinic.

Campton continued with its interscholastic athletic program under the direction of Mr. Lowden. Students at Campton exhibited not only athletic prowess but fine sportsmanship in all the programs offered. The cheerleaders should also be commended for their fine conduct and support. A free ski program once a week is now being offered the students through cooperation with the P.T.A. and Waterville Valley.

The success of this school year has depended mainly on the unselfish efforts of many individuals and organizations. I would like to take this opportunity to thank each of them and especially the members of the Volunteer Study Hall Program, the School Board, Mr. Bowie, the student body itself and the members of the staff who have been so patient and cooperative in working with me.

Respectfully submitted,

EVERETT BARNES, JR.,

Principal

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Hereby submitted is my annual report as your Superintendent of Schools.

The year has been a busy one and a productive one for the Campton Elementary School. There were three staff changes when school opened. Roberta Lowden, a 1967 graduate of Plymouth State College in the Elementary Curriculum, replaced Mrs. Kozusko who resigned to accept a position in Holderness. Philip Lowden replaced Alan Hill and Everett Barnes was employed as teaching Principal for Mr. Guyotte. Mr. Lowden has recently resigned and Burgess Youngman who completed his work at Plymouth State College in January has been employed to finish the year. We now have a good staff and there is a singleness of purpose and solidarity that results in good education.

Our lunch program under the supervision of Mrs. Strong with Mrs. Pierce as her assistant, is as popular as ever. The subsidy in the way of foods has surpassed other years and with careful management the program is financially sound. It has prospered to the extent that funds were available to purchase a second stove. This allows the lunch people to do more taking and make better use of the surplus foods.

I believe your decision was a wise one to enter into the AREA school agreement with Plymouth. It is always difficult to know what is the best course to follow. You have provided space for your high school students to have the opportunity to secure a good education in a new facility. I firmly believe the formation of the AREA school will prove to be one of the most important steps that has been recently undertaken around here in the field of education.

Speaking of space, we must begin to consider the over-crowding that is already beginning to appear in the elementary school. At the present time, both Mrs. Morse and Mrs. Broad have more children in their rooms than is conducive to good education and subsequently the pupil suffers educationally. The recommendation from the teachers themselves, with which I concur, is to add another fully-qualified teacher to the staff for next year. This teacher could then take groups and work directly with them. 'Teachers' Aides' now replace the work done by Mrs. Mayhew. They are a help, of course, because they can do many odd tasks that take time away from teaching but they do not and cannot replace the teacher. My advice in planning ahead would be to try to make arrangements in Plymouth for the education of grades seven and eight. Under an accredited Junior High School curriculum the students would receive instruction in Industrial Arts, Music, Physical Education and Art under qualified instructors. This could be done by an addition onto your present building but the instructors, equipment and space for these offerings would be at a cost that would be prohibitive. Whatever is done, the plans should begin at once so a recommendation could be made to the district soon.

The teachers and myself appreciate the quality and quantity of materials the district furnishes. I am sure your school receives as good support as any school in the state.

Respectfully submitted,

M. WAYNE BOWIE,
Superintendent of Schools

EXPLANATION OF SUPERINTENDENT'S SALARY

Chapter 189, Section 48 Revised Statutes Annotated of the State of New Hampshire, requires that the school district annual report show the total amount paid to the superintendent of schools as per the following quotation: "Reports. Each superintendent of a supervisory union shall annually prepare a report of the total salary paid to the superintendent showing in detail the amount paid by the state and each local school district, and their share of same. Said report shall be filed with the school board of each school district involved and shall be included in the annual report of the respective school district as a separate entry. A like report and entry shall be made for each assistant superintendent, teacher consultant, and business administrator, if any is in service in the union."

One half of the supervisory union expenses is pro-rated among the several school districts of the union on the basis of adjusted valuation. One half is pro-rated on the basis of average daily membership in the school for the previous school year ending June 30th. The salary of eleven thousand dollars ($11,000.) which was received by the Superintendent of Schools of Supervisory Union No. 48 during the 1966-67 school year was made up as follows: $5000. paid by the State of New Hampshire and $6000. pro-rated among the several school districts which comprise the union. Allowances of $1300. for travel within the union was also pro-rated as stated above.
